INTRODUCTION

Samuel[5] Partridge Hawes, the 8th child born to Jonathan and Mary (Partridge) Hawes in Franklin, MA 21 April 1777, was named in the 1996 genealogy The Edward Hawes Heirs on page 45. It was suggested that Samuel and his wife Susanna Whipple may have removed to Illinois. In June, 2003, Sue (Hawes) Bowen of Crystal Lake, IL, wrote to the author, Raymond Gordon Hawes, that she felt she was a descendant of Samuel Partridge Hawes, and supplied compelling supporting data.

The line of descent will begin with Edward[1] Hawes, ca. 1616 – 1687, as an aid to those unfamiliar with the ancestral line of Samuel[5].

Samuel P. Haws was enumerated in Pittsford, Rutland County, VT in the VT 1820 and 1830 U.S. Census. He died in IL 01 Aug 1847, probably in Mt. Pleasant, Whiteside County, where he is buried in the Mt. Pleasant Round Grove Cemetery, ae. 72 on his gravestone marker. The arithmetic doesn't compute, not unusual for the times.

Because of his large number of descendants, it was thought to be important that they be recorded for future researchers of his extended family.

The person number, shown in bold print in front of a person's name, is specific so as to conform to its proper place in The Edward Hawes Heirs genealogy of 1996. The "+" sign in front of a Hawes child's name signifies that his/her family is shown in detail in the following generation.

A great deal of credit for the data about Samuel and his descendants must be given to Sue (Hawes) Bowen who was the major data contributor. She provided the clues that allowed the author to explore different data bases and extend further the unfinished lines.

Generation 1

1. Edward[1] Hawes, progenitor of his heirs in America, is an enigma to those of us who have followed. He was not found on any ships lists of passengers who left England and came to America early in the 17th century.

A family tradition has it that Edward[A] Hawes came to New Amsterdam ca. 1615, later called New York City, as an employee of the Dutch West India Company, where he worked as a stone mason. It was there that his wife gave birth to a son named Edward[1] and where his wife died in childbirth.

A complete record of the family tradition is to be found in the genealogy The Edward Hawes Heirs, written by Raymond Gordon Hawes, published by Gateway Press, Baltimore, MD, 1996.

Edward[A] Hawes learned of the Pilgrim settlement in Plymouth, MA, so boarded a ship in New Amsterdam that landed in Boston, MA. Edward and his son lived in Boston and Dedham, MA. It was in Dedham on15 April 1648 that young Edward chose to marry Eliony Lumber (vr). Edward, the father, is reported to have bought the indenture of Eliony in order for his son to marry her. The date is recorded in the vital record (vr) as "15 2 mo 1648", which, under the Gregorian calendar of that period, was April, not February. Almost nothing is known of her, but she is suspected to have been born in England about 1625 and to have died in Dedham 1686-1687. Edward Hawes died in Dedham 28 June 1687.

Edward and Eliony Hawes had 9 children, all born in Dedham, MA (vr).

2 i Lydia[2] b. 26 Jan 1648/9, m. Eleazer Gay.

Sarah Newell and Nathaniel married in Dedham 29 March 1688. She was born in Roxbury, MA 22 March 1665, the daughter of Isaac and Elizabeth (Curtis) Newell. Nathaniel died in Dedham 16 Oct 1714 (vr).

The death of Nathaniel was not found in any records, but he is reported to have died ca. 1776, in either Wrentham, Franklin or Bellingham, MA, all adjoining towns. Bellingham was taken from Wrentham in 1719 and Franklin in 1778.

229. Samuel[5] Partridge Hawes (Jonathan[4], Nathaniel[3-2], Edward[1]) was born in Franklin, MA 21 April 1777 (vr). Samuel and Susanna Whipple married in Croyden, NH 15 June 1800 (vr). They were both of Croyden. Susanna was born in MA ca. 1780, the daughter of Moses and Catherine (Forbush) Whipple. Samuel worked as a shop-jointer.

He appeared in the record for the War of 1812 on a roll dated 16 Oct 1814, having enlisted 18 Sep 1814, as a waiter to Adjutant Pierce. He was on a muster roll of Field and Staff of Detached Militia under command of Lieut. Col. Joseph Dudley's 1st Regiment. His discharge date is not noted.

Samuel and Susanna moved from NH to Pittsford, VT about 1815 where their 6th child was born in 1816. When they moved to IL is unknown, but before 1847 where Samuel died 01 Aug 1847, the date recorded on his gravestone in the Mount Pleasant, IL Round Grove Cemetery (gs). Susanna died 18 Feb 1865, ae. 85, and is also buried in the Round Grove Cemetery (gs).

The children born to Samuel and Susanna Hawes were:

A knife, engraved with a July 22, 1830 date on one side of the handle and Sam'l P. Hawes on the reverse side, now in the possession of Robert Edward Hawes, Jr., a great, great, great, grandson of Samuel, is shown on the next page. It was passed down from Samuel to his son Alfred S. Hawes, then to Arthur Amos Hawes, William Alfred Hawes, Robert Edward Hawes, Sr. and now to Robert Edward Hawes, Jr.

487a. Julia[6] Hawes (Samuel[5], Jonathan[4], Nathaniel[3-2], Edward[1]) was born in NH 1802. She married Hiram Harmon in Will Co., IL 03 July 1837 (IL marriage index, as Harman) and died 13 Sep 1847, ae. 45 (gs). She is buried in the Mount Pleasant, IL Round Grove Cemetery (gs). A gravestone situated between the Samuel P. Hawes monument and the headstones reads "Julia, dau. of Samuel P. and Susanna Hawes and consort of Hiram Harmon". Hiram ran a saw mill near Hopkins, IL (Wayne Bastian, History of Whiteside Co., IL [Morrison, IL, 1968]:275).

Hiram is not to be found in any Census other than the IL 1840 Census where he is a resident of Whiteside Co., IL. Public Land Purchase records has Hiram Harmon making 3 land purchases: 14 April 1849; 8000[a] in Section 24, 8000[a] in Section 25 and 3646[a] in Section 30, all in Township 21N. The James Powers family is found in the IL1840 Census just preceding that of Arbela and Olive Adams, sister of Julia. Placement of Eliza here as the daughter of Hiram and Julia is not proven.

487b. Olive[6] Hawes (Samuel[5], Jonathan[4], Nathaniel[3-2], Edward[1]) was born in NH 1805. Arbela Adams married Olive in Croyden, NH 17 Aug 1829 (vr). He was born in Rutland Co., VT 1804, the son of Thomas and Polly (Cole) Adams (vr m.). They moved to Ottawa, IL in 1835 and to Portland Twp., IL in 1840. He and Olive were both living in Portland, IL in 1880, ae. 76 and 75. Olive died in Portland Twp. 22 April 1889, ae. 84.
